

CALIFORNIA CORPORATIONS
ARE STILL NOT "LIMITED"

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Dec. 19—(Associated Press)—Use of the word "Limited" or its abbreviation, "Ltd.," as part of the corporate name of a California Corporation will be looked upon with disfavor by E. C. Bellows, commissioner of corporations, the commissioner announced, because of probable misinterpretation of the effect of the use thereof.

The voters, failed to approve at the election Nov. 5, last, the act of the legislature of 1917, providing for use of the term "Limited" in corporate names, therefore the measure became void and the liability of stockholders of a California corporation adopting the term is not limited as was provided by this law.
